RE: Status Report - Limiting Work Locations to Enhance Safety

Your health and safety is our utmost priority. To reduce the risk of COVID-19 exposure, staff movement between other employers and our Hospital sites has been limited since April. As some workplaces are beginning to re-open, we wish to provide an update on our Hospital status.

As you know, staff who are employed with more than one employer were asked to select their primary employer and only work with the selected employer. This requirement will remain in place until further notice. Criteria to determine when this restriction will be lifted will occur in Recovery planning.

Employees who had originally chosen to work for another employer may contact their Manager should they want to return to work at Tour Hospital as their only employer. Managers should consult with Human Resources and Occupational Health & Safety before returning the staff member to work.

Work location limitations for the Transitional Care Unit at Hogarth Riverview Manor will also remain in effect until the Provincial Emergency Orders affecting Long Term Care staff and locations are lifted.

This is an evolving situation, and we will continue to provide updates as the circumstances change. If you have any questions please contact Amy Carr.
